Dear Colleagues

Welcome to this special edition newsletter, where we are excited to share the announcement of the 2021 Australian Awards for University Teaching round recipients.

We would like to acknowledge the significant amount of time and effort that all nominees have put towards developing their applicants, and to the 159 assessors who generously devoted their time to make considered, tough and often difficult decisions. Without their continued commitment, dedication and passion, a celebration like this would not be possible.

Recipients of the 2021 Australian Awards for University Teaching were formally announced via video on Wednesday 23 February 2022 by Professor John Dewar AO, Chair of Universities Australia and Professor Angela Carbone, Director of the Australian Awards for University Teaching. The video announcements can be viewed on AAUT-UA website.

Congratulations to all the successful Citation, Program and Teaching Award recipients, and particular accolades to the following three recipients:

Recipient of two Teaching Excellence Awards - Society and Culture and Neville Bonner Award for Indigenous Education
Dr Ambelin Kwaymullin from The University of Western Australia

Recipient of the Australian Award for University Teacher of the Year
Associate Professor Katerina Teaiwa from The Australian National University

Recipient of Career Achievement Award
Adjunct Professor John Biggs AM from University of Tasmania

Details of the successful recipients can be viewed in this edition of the newsletter.

All nominees will receive an official email on the outcome of their application, with detailed feedback from the assessment panels sent to all ICO for distribution late March.

Once again, congratulations to all the award recipients.

Regards,

-Angela
